service overview

contract logistics

NGL specializes in the design, implementation, and management of single-client, dedicated logistics operations. As a leading provider of contract logistics, we have facilities located throughout North America.

More and more, manufacturers and retailers are embracing NGL's contract logistics as a means to reduce overall supply chain costs, increase profitability, improve customer service levels, and reduce investment in fixed assets. NGL's contract logistics services allow you to concentrate valuable time and money on your core business.

What services does NGL offer?

NGL has the experience and resources to handle all your dedicated logistics needs, including:

- Site selection.
- Human resources and staffing.
- Equipment procurement and installation.
- Facility design and layout.
- Operational start-up and facility management.
- Supply chain information systems.

As the single client in a NGL-operated and managed contract logistics facility you can outsource all inbound logistics, warehousing and storage, order fulfillment, distribution, and transportation management of your product.

NGL excels in project management and start-ups – your operations are up and running effectively and efficiently, to your specifications, on time and within budget.

How do you get started?

We work with you to define, map, and measure key performance indicators (KPIs) for your operation. This enables us to focus on joint improvement activities that offer the greatest potential gains in operational efficiency. The net result? You will decrease your overall distribution costs and offer your customers unparalleled customer service.
