manufacturing support

From automotive and industrial assembly to consumer durables and electronics, our integrated manufacturing support services assure high quality, customer-acceptable parts and components in very short lead times, while keeping inventories throughout the supply chain at a minimum. We work with you to map key performance dimensions for the movement of products. This enables us to focus on joint activities that offer the greatest potential gains including:

Sourcing

Productive manufacturing begins with streamlined sourcing and procurement. We help with supplier assessment and development to optimize supply chain quality and responsiveness. When working with international suppliers, NGL provides proven multi-mode transportation strategies for the efficient flow of product.

Vendor Managed Inventory

NGL works with vendors to set up VMI programs in distribution centers that allow manufacturers to buy materials on consignment and pay only for what they use each month. This allows you to redirect capital allocated to inventory.

Industry focus

Electronics / semiconductor, Retail, Manufacturing and Food Service, Healthcare, Medical Products, Entertainment, Aerospace, Paper, and Technology.

Kitting

Simplify parts handling by configuring high-activity parts into consolidated user packages prior to final delivery.

Sequencing

Our process sequences items for the assembly line, so the right part arrives in the right order at the right time – according to your production schedule.

Sub-Assembly

By pre-assembling parts and components, we reduce assembly steps at the factory, to simplify your manufacturing process and reduce costs.

Just-In-Time Delivery

NGL helps you design integrated systems to move materials, within strict time parameters, from points of procurement directly to your production line.

Reverse Logistics

NGL's reverse logistics solutions offer seamless collaboration between retailers and suppliers by providing complete visibility. This increases reverse logistics velocity and consumer satisfaction.
