service overview

multi-tenant warehousing

Warehousing requires significant time, money, and resources. That's why major corporations trust NGL to provide customized, flexible outsourced warehousing solutions to handle this critical aspect of their supply chain. Our logistics experts will design a warehousing and distribution system that meets your requirements, while saving you time and money.

Superior Performance

At NGL, we're driven to provide our valued customers with service levels that far exceed the norm in our industry. Our performance, across all service offerings, is unrivaled, consistently and reliably attaining superior levels of inventory accuracy, order accuracy, and on time shipment metrics.

Flexible Space

We offer flexible warehousing solutions to customers with short-term or fluctuating space requirements at a variable cost. We can offer you the ability to readily expand or contract your stored inventory levels based on market demand, enabling you to reduce your distribution costs and maximize your profits.

Customized Solutions

At NGL, we understand that each customer is unique. That's why our warehousing and distribution solutions are easily customized to meet each customer's individual goals and objectives. We work with you to develop comprehensive solutions that maximize efficiencies and minimize risk.

Locations throughout North America

Our strategic network of food grade facilities allows us to store your products at locations that meet your customer requirements and reduce your transportation spend. Our facilities are conveniently located throughout North America and support a variety of warehousing needs from pallet-in/pallet-out storage, to quick-turn SKU-intensive picking, cross docking, consolidation, retail order fulfillment and e-commerce order fulfillment solutions.

Value-added Services

We offer a multitude of value-added services including, but not limited to, pick & pack, kitting, point of purchase display building, and returned goods processing. Just like our warehousing and distribution solutions, our value-added services are designed to be flexible and easily customized to your exact specifications.

State of the Art Technology – 24/7 Supply Chain Visibility

NGL's fully integrated suite of supply chain information systems, including WMS, TMS, and supply chain visibility, supports a complete array of inventory management requirements. Our systems easily integrate with your ERP systems to provide seamless end-to-end supply chain technology solutions. Our supply chain visibility portal offers you 24/7/365 real time information about all aspects of your supply chain including receipts, inventory, shipments, and reports.
