service overview

parts swap out

If your company depends on technology, you can rely on NGL to help keep your systems up and running.

Computer manufacturers and computer maintenance and repair companies depend on NGL to manage their entire 3PL Service Organization. These customized solutions include strategic parts depots and inventory, transportation management, and the facilitation of low-technical swap-outs and returns. Customized web sites and auto-notification capabilities provide customers and field technicians with the detailed real-time information on inventory and shipments in progress they need to limit down time and schedule repairs and swap-outs.

Focus on What You do Best

Our services include low-tech swap outs of electronic parts by qualified and responsive specialists. That means you can focus on your core business.

Supported by our sophisticated inventory and shipping management systems, you'll enjoy full visibility into all aspects of the parts swap out process. Plus, you get the legendary support from our exceptional team of logistics professionals.

We are available at any time, including weekends and holidays, to provide specific information and the most reliable courier service in the industry. Our offices are staffed by NGL employees 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Key Benefits of Working with NGL:
